

NEW STARTER EMPLOYEE LIFECYCLE PLAYBOOK

The purpose of completing this HR Lifecycle Playbook checklist is to evaluate critical work streams and infrastructure that is needed for companies who are starting up operations and/or are operating without any formal HR resourcing to consider the importance of establishing culture, an employer value proposition and ultimately ensuring best practice policies and processes are established to mitigate risk. Note: This playbook assumes that the company is legally set-up to operate in the location(s) as those details are not included.

HR Lifecycle Playbook
Lifecycle Category	Functional Area	Lifecycle Description
Planning	Strategic Plan	Establish a short and long-term strategy for people, culture, future state organizational structure, and the legal and HR and business processes optimally recommended to achieve day (1) operations. This will vary if it is a new company, a newly acquired company or an existing company operating without a dedicated HR resource
	Project Plan	Develop a comprehensive project plan with key milestones and timing established to achieve readiness for operations. Example: Domestic state(s) and/or global payroll set-up, identified key roles to hire, compensation and benefits packages. Recommend that the company follow a program management methodology and set up a project office to ensure key deliverables and work streams are being identified, planned and executed timely
	Culture	In partnership with owner/investors or core executive team, we will engage in a few sessions to define the future state Employer Value Proposition (EVP) and attributes of the desired culture recognizing all key stakeholders: candidates, employees, vendors/suppliers, and other external partners. The outcome should lead to a framework that would help the leadership document a vision, mission, core values, pillars and/or operating principles.
	Diversity, Equity & Inclusion	In partnership with leadership, we will create a starting point plan to establish a philosophy and process to hire and promote diverse candidates to reach their highest potential. As the company evolves, we can support ongoing initiatives to ensure the Company is committed to creating an inclusive work culture through allyship, employee and leadership development and ongoing assessment and feedback.
HR Operations	Payroll	Decision to process payroll internally or selection of external vendor to set-up payroll including set-up, quarterly taxes, annual reporting, etc.
	System	If external, recommend a company with an HCM (human capital management) module to run payroll upon team members hired, administer end to end employee lifecycle processes, set-up business intelligence data and analytics and future KPI's. Alternatively, the Company can consider using a professional employer organization (PEO) to fully outsource who are experts in ensuring all legal and tax requirements are met. Typically, ideal for 0-200 employee companies
	Benefits	Identify external benefits broker to set-up health and welfare benefits package; based on budget parameters established
	Employee Handbook	Based on size of company, create employee handbook ("Culture Guide") to outline the rules of engagement, state and federal employee laws and other applicable company policies generally accepted for the industry/company
	Total Compensation	Establish a market competitive compensation philosophy and short and long-term approach to defining a total compensation structure to ensure consistency in hiring, promotions, transfers, etc. Areas on scope are base salary, short-term incentive and long-term incentive including equity plans
